PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 6.—Ralph Cameron and Hoyal A. Smith today issued the following direct declaration of their position as to the advisory vote on senators:

"Our attention has been called to the statement that certain democratic legislative candidates have openly declared their unwillingness if elected to be guided by the advisory vote for United States senators. We wish our position on this matter to be known to the people whose suffrages we seek in advance of the election. We would spurn with contempt an election at the hands of a republican legislature that would have the audacity to disregard the advisory vote for United States senators and we call upon all republican candidates for the legislature publicly to pledge themselves forthwith that they will in the event of their election abide by the advisory vote of the people for United States senators and should a majority of the legislature be republican and either or both of our democratic opponents receive the advisory vote that they will keep faith with the people of Arizona and promptly ratify their choice as expressed in their advisory vote for United States senators on December 12."

BOOSTERS ARRIVE LATE
The fact that the train bearing the crowd of San Diego boosters arrived in Prescott two hours late, caused the visitors to miss the royal reception that they would have received in Prescott had they arrived on time. Prescott is sorry that the train was late, and would be glad to be given a fair opportunity to show its real hospitality under normal conditions.
